Music "When the Saints Go Marching In" by New Orleans' Sweet Emma and her Preservation Hall Jazz Band and "Bringing Back New Orleans" by Carl Keith

Pamela Pipes, a seventh-generation New Orleanian, developed this self-guided tour of historic neighborhoods linked by world-famous St. Charles Avenue based on her lifetime of love for her city and her persistent curiosity about the stories that bubble up from its streets. The included "lagniappe" CD covers the romantic, beautiful Garden District just off the Avenue. (Lagniappe is a tradition of giving "a little something extra" that characterizes New Orleans.)

Pamela also draws on two decades as a successful entrepreneur in the tourism industry. She has developed two other self-guided tours – one devoted to Hurricane Katrina's impact and another covering the Plantation Country that is an easy drive from the city. She is owner of New Orleans...A La Carde (www.alanet.com), a venture that promotes New Orleans and the aspects that make it the most distinctive city in the nation – maybe even the world!

"When I'm not leading parades, eating crawfish or chasing festivals, I'm sharing my enthusiasm for my home town," says Pamela. "I want to be an ambassador for my city and give visitors a real New Orleans experience."

As a member of Women of the Storm and Citizens for 1 Greater New Orleans, two prominent grassroots groups devoted to recovery, Pamela is passionate about rebuilding the Crescent City. She is also the proud mother of two adult children.
