

Great Ways to Enjoy the Tours!

One disk contains the St. Charles Avenue Tour, the other disk the Garden District tour. You can

- use them in many formats – CDs/MP3s/iTunes/Android
- take the tours together (about 3 hours)
- Take each tour separately
- take the St. Charles tour on the streetcar
- take the streetcar to the Jackson Avenue stop, enjoying the St. Charles tour on the way; disembark and take the Garden District walking tour; reboard the streetcar to continue the St. Charles tour or to return downtown.

The jacket includes handy maps for driving, biking and walking tours, as well as text to guide the walking tour on the reverse side of the jacket.

Start Your Tour from Anywhere on St. Charles Avenue

Check your cross-street, then find the nearest track number on the map to the right... Jump to that track and enjoy your tour!

Traffic lights will be your big challenge, and you will just have to keep working to keep the tracks synchronized with your position on the Avenue. We have assumed that, for driving tours, you'll travel around 20 mph and that you will pull over in front of each point of interest to hear our discussion of it.

Hurricane Katrina: Disaster and Hope

AUDIE FINALIST! The devastating Hurricane Katrina, which hit New Orleans on August 29, 2005, proved a fatal collaboration between man and nature. Although the city escaped direct catastrophic damage from the storm itself, the aftermath proved to be far worse. Our drive-it-yourself tour takes you to the actual levee breaches, explains the engineering failures, shows you devastation that knows no bounds of race or social class, and demonstrates the remarkable resilience of a rebuilding city.

Plantation Majesty

The few remaining 18th- and 19th-century plantations along the River Road between New Orleans and Baton Rouge offer fascinating glimpses into bygone centuries. Our tour features historically accurate facts and statistics, as well as frank, subjective observations from a 7th-generation New Orleanian. It will appeal to sophisticated travelers with a day or more to explore the area in depth, as well as to those who have just a few hours to get a brief sense of these remarkable places.
